WEST HOLDS EDGE

The National League's Eastern Division clubs won more games in inter-division play last season by a 222-209 margin, but the Western Division still holds an edge over the East since divisional play began in 1969. The National League West has won the most games in four of the seven seasons for a 57 game margin over the Eastern Division.

THE MANAGER

WILLIAM JOSEPH RIGNEY

Bats R, Throws R. Born January 29, 1918, in Alameda, California. Height 6-1, Weight 183. Married, two sons, one daughter. Lives in Alamo, California.

The man who guided the fortunes of the San Francisco Giants in 1958 when the club took The City by storm is back to lead the young Giants into a new era of baseball excitement in 1976 . . . Bill Rigney, a local Bay Area product, heads up the field management of the locally-owned team in what promises to be a completely new atmosphere at Candlestick Park . . . his first assignment on the Giants' National League schedule is against the Los Angeles Dodgers on Friday afternoon, April 9th . . . perhaps not coincidentally the Giants' first game on the West Coast was against the Dodgers at Seals Stadium on April 15, 1958, and it was a glorious 8-0 victory by Ruben Gomez over Don Drysdale . . . Rig managed the Giants for four and a half seasons, the first two in New York, then took over as the first manager of the Los Angeles (later California) Angels for eight-plus American League seasons . . . Rig succeeded Billy Martin as manager at Minnesota and guided the Twins to the Western Division title in 1970 only to lose the Championship Series in three games to the eventual World Champion Baltimore Orioles . . . since being replaced there by Frank Quilici on July 7th, 1972, Bill has maintained his association with the game, first as a color commentator on the Oakland A's broadcasts and most recently as a coach and special assignments scout with the San Diego Padres last season . . . with 16½ seasons as a major league manager Bill is second only to Walter Alston in experience among active managers . . . Rigney made the jump to the majors with the New York Giants in 1946 after a three year stint in the service . . . his last minor league stop was with the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League . . . Rig served as an infielder with New York until 1953 and was a member of the Miracle Giants of 1951 that won the famous playoff game from Brooklyn on Bobby Thomson's home run . . . a steady player, Bill contributed 17 home runs to the Giants' famed 221 Club in 1947 that set the all-time National League home run record by a club in one season until Cincinnati tied the mark in 1956 . . . known as "The Cricket" for his slender build, Rigney was actually the first Giant to use a "basket" catch . . . his unorthodox style of corraling pop flies was very familiar to Polo Grounds fans . . . Bill prepped for his managerial career under Leo Durocher, who was his skipper from 1948 through 1953 . . . with Leo's blessing he took over as manager of the Giants' AAA team at Minneapolis in 1954, winning the American Association with the Millers in 1955 . . . the next season Rigney succeeded Durocher as manager of the Giants . . . Bill and his wife Paula now live in Alamo, California . . . his son Bill is the General Manager of the Chicago Cubs' AA affiliate at Midland, Texas, in the Texas League.

ROBERT LEROY RODGERS

CATCHER. Batted R & L, Threw R. Born August 16, 1938, in Delaware, Ohio. Height 6-2, Weight 195. Married. Lives in Yorba Linda, California.

Bob has been associated with Bill Rigney for more than a decade, beginning when Rodgers was a catcher for Rig with the California Angels where he spent his entire major league playing career . . . Bob later became a coach under Rigney at Minnesota in 1970, and in 1974 was named pitching coach of the Twins . . . it is his experience and background that brings him to Candlestick Park as tutor of the Giants' young pitching staff . . . Bob will work in conjunction with Frank Funk, who has been the Giants' minor league pitching coach, putting to good use Funk's knowledge of the staff . . . Bob is one of several former catchers who have gone on to become pitching coaches in the majors . . . two of the more prominent ones are Rube Walker of the New York Mets and Joe Becker, formerly of the Los Angeles Dodgers . . . Rodgers, with the obvious nickname of Buck, began his professional career in the Detroit Tiger organization . . . last season he took his first crack at managing, guiding the California Angels' Salinas club of the California League to a fifth place finish.

JAMES LELAND BARR

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born February 10, 1948, in Lynwood, California. Height 6-3, Weight 205. Married, one daughter. Lives in San Mateo, California.

As the workhorse veteran of the Giant staff Jim led the club in innings and complete games for the second straight year in 1975 . . . last year, except for two relief appearances, Jim was the number one starter, a position he's held since mid-June of 1974 . . . he made good in his first Opening Game assignment, shutting out the Padres in San Diego Stadium on the night of April 10th, in a 10-inning gem . . . that's the only time Barr has beaten San Diego in six decisions . . . always a very steady pitcher with fine control, he again was among the stingiest in allowing walks, only 1.77 per nine innings . . . an economy of pitches has earned him a reputation as a fast worker, many times completing games in less than two hours and in under 100 pitches . . . although consistently effective the past two years, Jim's pitched in hard luck . . . in 1974 he was shut out three times and lost three others by one run . . . last season in his first eight defeats the Giants scored a total of nine runs, and three losses were by a run, three others in games the Giants failed to score . . . had two particularly good streaks, in May when he was 5-1 with an ERA of 2.00 and in the last part of July when he completed four straight games following the All Star Game, winning three and losing the other, 1-0 . . . Jim has 12 career shutouts among his 46 National League wins . . . he participated in a rare doubleheader shutout of Montreal in Candlestick Park on July 21, 1974, completing the job in 1:41, by a score of 4-0 . . . that was part of only the fourth double shutout by Giant pitchers in San Francisco history . . . when he's hot he's hot as evidenced by his major league record of 41 consecutive batters retired on August 23 and 29, 1972, in back to back starts against Pittsburgh and St. Louis . . . last season Jim was guilty of allowing more than three earned runs in only nine of his 33 starts . . . Barr was the Giants' number two choice in the June, 1970, Special Phase draft out of the University of Southern California . . . the Giants had taken his college teammate, Dave Kingman, in the first round . . . scout George Genovese signed him and he reached the majors in slightly more than a full season of minor league experience . . . a conscientious worker and serious competitor who lends stability to a young pitching staff . . . Jim and his wife, Susie, live in San Mateo, California, with their daughter, Emmy, who's a year and a half old.

RELIEF PITCHERS' SAVE RULE

A pitcher is credited with a Save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not the winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
   a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
   b. He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
   c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

THOMAS WILLIAM BRADLEY

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born March 16, 1947, in Asheville, N. C. Height 6-3, Weight 185. Married. Lives in Walnut Creek, California.

Early season shoulder miseries kept Tom from getting regular work and prompted some time at Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League . . . proving his arm was sound there Tom returned but found himself on the outside of the Giants' strong starting rotation . . . he pitched for Mayaguez of the Puerto Rican League this winter to get a start on a comeback bid in 1976 . . . when his arm is sound he's a hard thrower and possesses fine control . . . signed by the California Angels out of the University of Maryland where he earned a B.A. degree in Education with a major in Latin . . . an all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in 1967 and 1968 . . . made rapid progress and was in the majors at the end of his first professional season . . . became a major league regular with the Chicago White Sox in 1971 and 1972, striking out more than 200 batters each season, only the third time in that club's history that had been done in consecutive seasons . . . acquired by the Giants on November 29, 1972, in a trade with the White Sox for outfielder Ken Henderson and pitcher Steve Stone . . . won the Giants' Opening Day game in 1974, a 5-1 decision over Houston in Candlestick Park . . . Tom holds 55 major league wins, tops on the Giant roster, and he's still young (29 years old on March 16) enough to be productive . . . a product of Falls Church (Va.) High School and northern Virginia's Little League, Babe Ruth League and American Legion baseball programs.

JERALD RAY BROWN

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born March 22, 1948, in Houston, Texas. Height 6-1, Weight 210. Married, one daughter. Lives in Houston.

Jake made his big league debut last May at the age of 27 when he was purchased from the Lafayette club of the Texas League . . . had been a catcher for most of his pro career, but a serious industrial accident influenced his switch to the outfield . . . on October 22, 1973, Jake's left arm was sliced off in a sheet metal machine . . . doctors at Houston's Methodist Hospital miraculously sewed the arm back, but told Jake to forget about baseball . . . a long period of pain and therapy followed, and by the summer of 1974 he was able to start swinging a bat . . . last spring he felt he was ready and picked up his career at Lafayette where he was batting well when the call to San Francisco came . . . Jake was signed by scout Hugh Poland out of Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., after being selected in the first round of the special phase of the June, 1969, draft . . . a product of Houston's Wheatley High School . . . led Southern University to the Southwest Conference title and a berth in the N.A.I.A. playoffs in 1969 . . . has always been a solid hitter and is another player in need of finding a regular position to play.

The 1975 season was a disappointment for Mike since he was unable to follow up his fine first season with the Giants . . . after undergoing surgery for removal of a traction bone spur from his left elbow in October of 1974, Caldwell expected to improve with his arm free of pain . . . he pitched in hard luck, losing his first five decisions, three of them by one run and another by two runs . . . in the five defeats he allowed only 15 earned runs . . . followed the bad streak by winning three straight including complete game wins over two of the top four hitting clubs in the league—Pittsburgh and Philadelphia . . . four of his seven wins came at Candlestick Park where he has been particularly effective . . . had a 9-1 home record in 1974 . . . was placed in a relief role at the end of July and pitched more effectively . . . there was a feeling that he regained some of his velocity towards the end of the season after shaking off the effects of the off-season surgery . . . in September he had an ERA of 1.96 and allowed just one earned run over an 18-running stretch . . . Mike signed with the San Diego Padres out of North Carolina State University in his native state . . . the Padres chose him in the 11th round of the June, 1971, draft, yet he reached the majors at the end of his first professional season . . . a return to his 1974 form would not be a surprise, and such a contribution would give the Giants a solid lefthanded starter . . . Mike's the only southpaw starter with any experience on the spring roster.

JOHN FRANCIS D'ACQUISTO

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born December 24, 1951, in San Diego, California. Height 6-2, Weight 195. Married, one daughter. Lives in Foster City, California.

Elbow surgery last June cut short John's 1975 season, but he comes into 1976 with confidence and a pain-free arm to lay claim to a regular starting job . . . he had chips taken out of the right elbow and came out of the operation very well . . . pitched in three games in September and reported no pain in the arm, greater extension and pleasure at his ability to throw freely . . . went to the Arizona Instructional League for further tests of his arm and threw well, striking out 25 batters in 31 innings . . . John was 1-4 with an ERA of 11.25 when it was decided he needed surgery . . . the doctor's strike delayed surgery three weeks and it was June 9 before Dr. Frank Jobe did the job at View Park Hospital in Los Angeles . . . John enjoyed a good 1974 season when he set San Francisco records for most wins and strikeouts as a rookie, marks that were erased by John Montefusco last season . . . D'Acquisto was the Giants' first choice in the June, 1970, draft and was signed by scout George Genovese after graduating from San Diego's St. Augustine High School . . . led his league in strikeouts in 1971 and 1972 . . . threw a 7-inning no-hitter at Phoenix in 1973 while leading the PCL in starts, complete games, shutouts (4) and innings pitched . . . always a strikeout pitcher, he's fanned 218 batters in 271 National League innings . . . one of the hardest throwers in the majors.

EDWARD LOUIS HALICKI

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 4, 1950, in Newark, N. J. Height 6-7, Weight 220. Married. Lives in Moss Beach, California.

Big Ed started the season at Phoenix in the Pacific Coast League, but was recalled in mid-May when John D'Acquisto was sidelined for an elbow operation . . . Ho-Ho, as he's known by his teammates (in reference to his size, like the Jolly Green Giant), went into the Giants' starting rotation and pitched well in spite of his won-lost record . . . in his first start he whipped Pittsburgh, 12-4, the first of three decisions over the Eastern Division Champions . . . the Pirates are one club that knows how effective Halicki can be . . . in his first five losses the Giants scored only four runs for Ed, and the defeats were by scores of 1-0, 4-1, 7-1, 8-2 and 6-0 . . . the 1-0 loss was particularly bitter, as the run scored on an error in the bottom of the 11th inning with two outs at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia . . . that defeat came on May 26th, and the next night Halicki's roommate, John Montefusco, avenged it by shutting out the hard-hitting Phils, 1-0, in ten innings . . . Ed pitched effectively most every time out and had 21 decisions in his 23 starts . . . his top games were both shutouts, 2-0 at Dodger Stadium on a 5-hitter June 26 and the fantastic no-hitter over the New York Mets at Candlestick Park on August 24th . . . in the second game of a Sunday doubleheader that was being televised back to the East Coast where Ed's parents and relatives were looking on, Halicki faced just 31 batters, walked two and had only two anxious moments in recording the third no-hitter in San Francisco history . . . leading off the fifth inning Rusty Staub, a slow runner, reached base on a bobble near second base by Derrel Thomas . . . and lefthanded hitting John Milner fisted a looper down the right field line that was caught by Steve Ontiveros on the dead run . . . Willie Montanez singled in two runs in the first inning to get Halicki ahead enroute to the 6-0 triumph that thrilled 24,132 fans as well as all of Ed's teammates, Montefusco in particular . . . the no-hitter came in the midst of a string of six starts in which Halicki allowed just 31 hits and 10 ER in 47 innings while striking out 57 batters . . . he seemed to pitch with much more assurance after the no-hit effort . . . in 160 innings Ed allowed just six home runs, none in his last 74.2 innings, and in the final 34 innings of 1975 he fanned 39 batters . . . Ed's ratio of strikeouts to innings pitched was the best in the National League . . . he struck out almost one of three batters he retired, 153 in 160 innings . . . he had 10 or more strikeouts five times, with a high of 12 three times . . . at age 25, with a year and a half in the National League, the hard-throwing righthander should be coming into his prime years . . . he has a history of pitching much better in the second half of the season . . . in 1973 he was 14-3 with a 1.76 ERA from June 1st on at Fresno in the California League . . . prior to his first shot at the majors in July of 1974 Ed won six straight starts at Phoenix, completing all of them . . . has excellent stuff, his ball is never straight . . . a graduate of Kearny High School in New Jersey and an All-State selection in baseball and basketball . . . signed by scout Buddy Kerr out of Monmouth College in West Long Branch, N.J., where he was chosen to the small college All American third team in 1971-72 . . . married Paula Aasen of Tucson, Arizona, last July . . . they have a new home in Moss Beach, California.

DAVID WALLACE HEAVERLO

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born August 25, 1950, in Ellensburg, Washington. Height 6-1, Weight 210. Married. Lives in Foster City, California.

Dave made a very quick jump to the majors from AA after just two minor league campaigns, earning a varsity job as a non-roster player in the last spring's training camp . . . led the Giant staff with a 2.39 ERA in 42 games . . . used more and more as the season progressed . . . made his biggest impression in the 1974 Arizona Instructional League with a 0.43 ERA in 42 innings and earned the invitation to spring camp . . . Dave was the Giants' first choice in the January, 1973 draft and was signed by scout Dick Wilson . . . played semi-pro ball for the Cheney Studs team of Seattle, Washington . . . possesses the ability to pitch often and is effective in short relief . . . shows good poise and control of a sinking fastball, slider and forkball . . . shaved his head when he learned of his invitation to spring camp last year and earned the nickname "Kojak" from his teammates . . . has highest uniform number, 60, in majors.

MARC KEVIN HILL

CATCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born February 18, 1952, in Louisiana, Mo. Height 6-3, Weight 210. Married, one son. Lives in Elsberry, Mo.

Last season started promisingly for the strapping Missourian . . . acquired in a trade from St. Louis for pitcher Elias Sosa and catcher Ken Rudolph on October 5, 1974, Marc had been slated for considerable duty either as number one catcher or as backup for incumbent regular Dave Rader . . . but things didn't turn out well for Hill, as he never got the chance to play that was anticipated . . . he did contribute three game-winning hits and produced 23 RBIs with just 39 hits, five of them home runs . . . Marc hit particularly well (.313) against the World Champion Cincinnati Reds . . . defensively he was good, ranking near the top of the fielding averages with just two errors and two passed balls and 311 total chances . . . a very strong arm was evident . . . he threw out former teammate Lou Brock on steal attempts three times in the first two games he played against St. Louis . . . a basketball and baseball standout at Lincoln County High School in Elsberry, Mo., earning All-State honors in both sports . . . made his league's All Star Teams in 1970 and 1973 . . . rated the best catcher in the minors in 1974, just prior to his coming to the Giants . . . the first game he caught in the majors was a two-hit shutout against Philadelphia on September 28, 1973 . . . still a top prospect for regular duty at age 24.

VON EVERETT JOSHUA

OUTFIELDER. Bats L, Throws L. Born May 1, 1948, in Oakland, California. Height 5-10, Weight 170. Married, two daughters. Lives in Ladera Heights, Calif.

Following his acquisition from the Los Angeles Dodgers on waivers on January 29, 1975, Von asked only that he get a chance to play so he could prove his abilities . . . and prove it he did . . . he battled Garry Maddox for the starting center field job in spring training and was in a platoon situation at the start of the year . . . a 15-game hitting streak from April 22 to May 11, the longest by a Giant in 1975, cinched the job for him and convinced the Giants they could afford to give up Maddox to the Phillies for first baseman Willie Montanez . . . in the five weeks from April 22 to May 28 Von hit safely in 27 of 29 games and established himself as one of the top outfielders in the league . . . at the end of the season he stood number seven in the averages at .318, and on defense he led all outfielders in the N.L. with a percentage of .993, including 10 assists . . . a steady leadoff hitter, Von had 17 games in which he collected three or more hits . . . two of those games were 4-hit efforts . . . he was consistent all year, failing to hit at the .300 level only in May (.293) and he hit lefthanders at a .314 clip . . . as the leadoff man his RBI opportunities were not as numerous, but he contributed four game-winning hits and added 10 go-ahead RBIs . . . Joshua was second on the Giants in stolen bases with 20 in 29 attempts . . . against his old club, the Dodgers, Von hit .313 with two of his seven homers, a total which was three more than his combined output in parts of five seasons with Los Angeles . . . his last homer of the year was hit in Riverfront Stadium off Reds' ace, Don Gullett, the first Von has clubbed off a lefthander in his major league career . . . Josh is a native of Oakland and a product of Castlemont High School . . . the Giants actually drafted him out of high school, but he chose to pass up pro ball at the time . . . the Dodgers chose him in the special phase of the draft and he reached the majors in short order . . . along the way he won batting titles at Tri-City in the Northwest League in 1967 and at Albuquerque in the PCL in 1972 . . . his efforts at winning a regular berth with the Dodgers were lost in a platooning situation from which he found no escape until the Giants rescued him . . . Von and his wife Debby have two daughters, Vanessa (5) and Dawne (1).

ROOKIE RULE

The Baseball Writers Association of America considers a player a rookie unless during the previous season or seasons he has (1) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club during the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

The 25-player limit is in effect from Opening Day through August 31.

ROBERT WESLEY KNEPPER

PITCHER. Bats L, Throws L. Born May 25, 1954, in Akron, Ohio. Height 6-2, Weight 180. Married. Lives in Santa Rosa, California.

Bob was impressive in spring camp a year ago and had an outside chance to make the varsity . . . a bad cold caused him to lose a couple of pitching turns and be passed over in favor of Pete Falcone who made it as a non-roster player, and Bob was optioned to Phoenix . . . the jump from Class A at Fresno the year before caused Bob some problems, but he won 11 games for Phoenix and displayed an excellent fastball and breaking pitches that augur well for his future . . . came off an excellent 1974 season at Fresno where he was the Pitcher of the Year in the California League on the strength of a 20-5 record . . . also led the league in winning percentage, complete games, innings and strikeouts . . . Bob's the only 20-game winner in that league the last 14 seasons . . . a graduate of Calistoga (Calif.) High School where Eddie Montague scouted him and made him the Giants' number two choice in the June, 1972 draft . . . as a prep he recorded top strikeout games of 19 (7 IP) and 22 (9IP) and was 10-1 in his senior year . . . pitched in the California P.A.L. High School All Star Game at Candlestick Park in 1972 . . . went through Little League, Pony League, Colt League, Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio League programs . . . has a chance to make it big in the majors, just needs a bit more experience and greater control of his pitches.

GARY ROBERT LAVELLE

PITCHER. Bats R & L, Throws L. Born January 3, 1949, in Scranton, Pa. Height 6-1, Weight 190. Married, one daughter. Lives in Allentown, Pa.

Gary's rookie year in the National League was very successful in view of his effectiveness as a short reliever . . . over his eight minor league seasons he had been primarily a starter although when he came to training camp last spring he was considered the prime candidate for the lefthanded relief role . . . in the first eight weeks Gary won his first three decisions and saved two other games before finally tasting defeat on a lead-off home run by Mike Jorgensen in Montreal on May 31st . . . Gary allowed only three homers in 82 innings . . . he led Giant pitchers with 65 appearances, and only 11 times could his performance be described as ineffective . . . in early July his ERA stood at 2.25 . . . his early season work was outstanding . . . in the first 14 games he worked he allowed only three earned runs in 21 innings for an ERA of 1.29 and in the month of May his ERA was 1.00, three earned runs in 27 innings . . . Gary was 3-0 at Candlestick Park, and he didn't lose after June 24th, winning two and saving five more in the final three months of the campaign . . . Lavelle was signed by scout Buddy Kerr after a baseball and basketball career at Liberty High School in Bethlehem, Pa., where he had played Little League, American Legion and Connie Mack League baseball . . . spent the first half of 1969 on active duty with the U.S. Marines, then came back to pitch a near perfect no-hitter and post a 1.69 ERA at Decatur to earn his first promotion to the major league roster . . . Gary and wife Regina had another very special event in their lives during his rookie season, the birth of their first child, Jana Marie, on May 22, 1975.

JOHNNIE LEE LEMASTER

INFIELDER. Bats R. Throws R. Born June 19, 1954, in Portsmouth, Ohio. Height 6-2, Weight 160. Married. Lives in Paintsville, Kentucky.

The slim Kentuckian enjoyed an outstanding season at Phoenix where he was selected to the Pacific Coast League All Star Team . . . also chosen as the best shortstop in the minor leagues . . . led PCL in assists and double plays while hitting a solid .292 with 58 RBIs . . . earned a chance at the majors in September and may be on the brink of becoming a big leaguer . . . hit two homers in his brief San Francisco experience . . . has speed and a quick arm with all the range for a fine shortstop . . . his base stealing success is high . . . stole 19 of 22 at Great Falls, 29 of 36 at Decatur and last year 17 of 24 with Phoenix . . . Johnnie was the Giants' number one choice in June of 1973 and was signed by scout Hugh Poland out of Paintsville (Ky.) High School where he hit .533 in his senior year . . . he led Pioneer Rookie League shortstops in putouts, assists and double plays in his first pro season.

GARY NATHANIEL MATTHEWS

OUTFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born July 5, 1950 in San Fernando, California. Height 6-3, Weight 190. Married, one son. Lives in Foster City, Calif.

What could have been his best season was ruined by a freak injury suffered in a scuffle with a teammate, Derrel Thomas, on June 1st . . . at that point the Giants were just three games back of Western Division leader Cincinnati and playing very well . . . Gary was the cleanup hitter and the power man from the right side of the plate, and with his absence came an onslaught of lefhanded pitchers to torment San Francisco's predominantly lefthanded hitting lineup . . . Matthews was out of action until July 18, and by that time the Giants were 16 games out and eliminated for all intents and purposes . . . it took him a while to regain his batting form after the fracture of the left thumb, but towards the end of the season he was showing what he can do when healthy . . . in the last two months of the season he hit eight homers and drove in 31 runs . . . on September 24th he had the first five hit game of his career in Atlanta Stadium, one of nine times he had three or more hits in a game . . . in spite of his long absence Gary led the Giants in home runs and contributed six game-winning hits and seven go-ahead RBIs . . . however, he had an overall disappointing year with respect to driving in runners in scoring position . . . Matthews has improved concurrently with expanding experience in each of his three full seasons with San Francisco . . . he's a strong player who has very good speed as illustrated by 13 stolen bases in 16 attempts . . . were it not for his time on the disabled list he would certainly have surpassed his offensive totals of the previous two seasons . . . he looks to have a potential for 25-30 homers and 100 RBIs this season . . . on defense he has made big strides and last season he had 11 assists in 113 games, a better ratio than National League leader Rusty Staub of New York who had 15 in 153 games . . . after missing approximately one third of the 1975 National League season Gary went to the Dominican Republic and played with the Escogido team there . . . Matt was signed by scout George Genovese after graduating from San Fernando (Calif.) High School . . . the Giants had picked Gary in the first round of the June, 1968, draft . . . he made the Midwest League All Star team at Decatur in 1969 . . . in 1971 he led the Texas League in fielding, doubles and total bases . . . 1972 saw him set a Phoenix club record record with 108 RBIs and win a place on the Pacific Coast League All Star Team . . . made a great impression in a late September trial with San Francisco in 1972, driving in 14 runs in 20 games and batting .290 . . . each season since he has continued to progress in all phases of the game and that should be the story again in 1976.

CHARLES BRUCE MILLER

INFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born March 3, 1947, in Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Height 6-1, Weight 185. Married. Lives in Columbia City, Indiana.

In his first full season in the majors Bruce was the Giants' busiest utility infielder . . . played at second third and shortstop, but most of his playing time came at third base where he platooned with Steve Ontiveros . . . Miller had a particularly good month in May and started a 13-game hitting streak that went through June 7th . . . contributed five game-winning hits . . . highlights included a career high four RBIs in a game against Montreal at Candlestick Park and his first major league home run, hit off Cincinnati's Clay Kirby in Riverfront Stadium on July 31st . . . playing more or less regularly he hit safely in 19 of 21 games from mid-May to mid-June . . . Bruce signed with the Chicago White Sox out of the University of Indiana as an all-Big Ten player in 1969 . . . came to the Giants from the California Angels for third baseman Alan Gallagher on April 13, 1973 . . . had figured in a swap for relief pitcher Eddie Fisher when he went to California in August of 1972 . . . was an all-Pacific Coast League Team member in 1972 and enjoyed his best overall season in 1973 at Phoenix with the Giants' AAA club . . . that year led PCL shortstops in putouts, assists and double plays . . . has a B.S. degree in Education from Indiana.

GREGORY BRIAN MINTON

PITCHER. Bats R & L. Throws R. Born July 29, 1951, in Lubbock, Texas. Height 6-2, Weight 190. Married, three children. Lives in Encinitas, Ca.

An outstanding season at Phoenix led to Greg's purchase by the Giants for a September trial, and he now has a chance to make the varsity in 1975 . . . he can relieve or start and he has good control and an excellent delivery . . . pitched well in his two starts, the first against Cincinnati . . . won his second start at San Diego on September 27th . . . Minton was one of the best pitchers in the Pacific Coast League last season, finishing third in the ERA race . . . won five starts in a row and seven of his last eight at Phoenix . . . held a relief role in the first part of the year, recording four Saves, then replaced Ed Halicki in the starting rotation when Ed was called up by the Giants in late May . . . a fine fielder, Greg led PCL pitchers in that department . . . acquired by the Giant organization in a trade with the Kansas City Royals for catcher Fran Healy in the spring of 1973 . . . a baseball, basketball and football star at San Dieguito High School in Cardiff, California . . . attended San Diego Mesa Junior College before being signed by Royals' scout John (Spider) Jorgensen . . . played Little League, Pony League, Colt League and American Legion baseball . . . in the Legion program he was a teammate of Tom Dempsey, who is now the placekicker for the Los Angeles Rams.

RANDALL JAMES MOFFITT

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 13, 1948, in Long Beach, California. Height 6-3, Weight 190. Married, one daughter. Lives in El Granada, California.

With more help in the Giant bullpen last year Randy was not worked as much and consequently proved to be more effective . . . was especially tough in Candlestick Park with a 1.70 ERA (7 ER—37 IP) . . . his bread and butter pitches are a sinker and slider . . . as will happen with many relievers, he pitched well in streaks during 1975 . . . in his first eight games he didn't allow an earned run . . . from June 8th to the 29th, in 12 games over 20 innings he allowed no runs and only six hits while racking up five Saves . . . he was the staff leader in Saves (11) for the third straight year . . . since taking over the number one relief spot for San Francisco in 1973 he has averaged 58 appearances and 13 Saves per season . . . his career Save total is now at 44 . . . three of his five defeats were by one run . . . in the only start of his major league career Randy had the Dodgers shut out going into the eighth inning at Dodger Stadium on June 21, 1974, but a couple of scratch hits got him in trouble and a 3-0 lead disappeared in a game the Dodgers won in the 10th inning . . . as the late-inning reliever he finished 33 of the 55 games he entered last year . . . Randy's a Southern California product of Long Beach Polytechnic High School and California State College at Long Beach where he led the 49ers to a conference title in his freshman year of 1967 . . . after three seasons at Long Beach State he was chosen in the first round of the January, 1970, draft and signed by scout George Genovese . . . during his first professional season at Fresno in the California League he served in the U.S. Army . . . a brother of the world famous tennis star, Billie Jean King, Randy dabbles in that sport in the off season . . . He and wife Pam now live in El Granada, along the San Francisco Peninsula's Pacific coastline with their infant daughter, Miranda Leigh, born last October 16th.

JOHN JOSEPH MONTEFUSCO

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born May 25, 1950, in Long Branch, N. J. Height 6-1, Weight 180. Single. Lives in Belmont, California.

The Count has come on strong to rank with the National League's pitching headliners in just over one season in the majors . . . he'll reign as National League Rookie of the Year for 1975 after accomplishing on the mound what he's been brash and confident enough to predict with his puckish braggadocio . . . on many occasions John's predicted a win or a shutout and come through . . . he did have it backfire on him last July when he said he'd strike out Cincinnati's Johnny Bench four times in a game and Bench applied a crushing blow with a long three-run homer in an 11-6 Red triumph . . . a 20-win season did not become a reality although John pitched well enough to achieve that boast . . . three times the Giants were shut out in a game Montefusco lost . . . and four times the Count had no decisions in games that he went seven, eight or nine innings with a yield of one run . . . another memorable no decision came in Montreal when John fanned 12 Expos in Jarry Park, allowing 3 runs in 10.1 innings on August 13 . . . the Giants ended up winning that one, 4-3 in 12 frames . . . Montefusco suffered a banged up index finger when a foul ball hit him in the batting cage in spring training and so he was behind the other pitchers when the season began . . . started off well with a 4-hit, 5-0 shutout of Atlanta on April 13 in the Giants' fourth game of the year . . . ended up leading the staff in wins, starts, ERA (for starters), innings (tied with Jim Barr), shutouts (4) and strikeouts . . . John finished seventh in the N.L. earned run averages . . . his 215 strikeouts were the most by a Giant rookie since Hall of Famer Christy Mathewson recorded 221 for New York in 1901, and also the most by any rookie in the National League since Grover Cleveland Alexander, another Hall of Famer, fanned 227 for the all-time N.L. record as a freshman in 1911 . . . Montefusco finished second to Tom Seaver (243) in the National League last year . . . he also was second to fellow Jerseyite and roommate Ed Halicki in the National League in percentage of strikeouts to batters retired (Seaver was third) . . . had seven starts in which he fanned 10 or more batters with a high of 14 against Montreal on August 27th . . . when he got within shooting distance of Alexander's N.L. Rookie strikeout record he accelerated and fanned 62 batters in 49 innings (6 starts from August 23 to September 12), a ratio of 11.39 K's per 9 innings . . . did not fail to strike out at least one batter in every one of his 34 starts . . . he's the only Giant pitcher to hit a home run last season—off Chicago's Milt Wilcox on July 23 at Candlestick Park . . . John was 8-3 in Candlestick last year . . . won the last game played at Candlestick last year, 2-1 over San Diego, the second straight Fan Appreciation Day game he won . . . in 1974 he blanked the Reds, 6-0, while hitting a home run . . . the Count is the fifth Giant to win Rookie of the Year honor, but the first pitcher . . . previous winners were Willie Mays (1951), Orlando Cepeda (1958), Willie McCovey (1959) and Gary Matthews (1973) . . . John's 15 wins were the most by a Giant rookie since Larry Jansen won 21 in 1947 . . . a great desire to enter professional baseball overcame every club's lack of enthusiasm in signing him . . . a skinny youngster who was a weak hitting infielder at Middletown (N.J.) Township High School when he didn't pitch, John didn't impress any pro scouts . . . played semi-pro ball and even fast-pitch softball for the telephone company team in New Jersey, then went to Brookdale Community College in Lincroft, N.J., and persuaded the late Giant scout, Frank Burke to take a took at him . . . Burke and Buddy Kerr recommended his signing and John immediately told them he'd be in the majors in two years . . . good to his word he advanced quickly and did something sensational at every level of competition . . . in 1973 he completed 11 of 12 starts and had the second leading ERA of 2.18 at Decatur in the Midwest League . . . impressed the top brass with a 6-1 record and a 1.29 ERA in 49 innings (17 BB, 47 SO) in the winter Arizona Instructional League, then went to Amarillo in the Texas League to start the 1974 season . . . was leading the Texas League in strikeouts when promoted to Phoenix of the AAA Pacific Coast League in July when Halicki came up to San Francisco . . . with Phoenix he completed seven of 11 starts with three shutouts and 90 strikeouts in 77 innings, including a PCL record equaling eight consecutive batters fanned on August 11th . . . capped the incredible rise to the majors to make it within his two year prediction on September 3rd in, of all places, Dodger Stadium . . . hours after getting off the plane from Phoenix John entered the game in relief of Ron Bryant in the first inning with the Dodgers ahead 3-2, no outs and the bases loaded . . . The Count finished the game, allowing just six hits and one run, slammed a two-run homer in his first official at bat, survived a hard shot off his leg and a collision on the first base line to win the game, 9-5 . . . he's always displayed exceptional poise on the mound . . . was the Giants' number one drawing card in 1975 . . . his next goal, a prediction, is winning the National League's Cy Young Award.

GUILLERMO (WILLIE) MONTANEZ

INFIELDER. Bats L, Throws L. Born April 1, 1948, in Catano, Puerto Rico. Height 6-1, Weight 193. Married, one son, two daughters. Lives in Caguas, P.R.

The Giants made one of their most important acquisitions of the last decade on May 4, 1975, when Willie came to San Francisco in exchange for centerfielder Garry Maddox . . . it was a swap that benefitted both clubs, the Phillies wanting to open first base for Dick Allen while the Giants were looking for consistent run production and a regular first baseman . . . Maddox, who had lost his starting job to Von Joshua, performed well for the Phils and Montanez became the Giants' most valuable player according to most observers . . . Willie was the only Giant to earn any support in the National League's MVP balloting . . . a showman on the field, Willie is dead serious about his job . . . he played with a leg injury most of the year and in spite of coming to the Giants four weeks into the season he finished a close second on the club in hits and RBIs, setting a personal career high in hits and RBIs (101, 85 of them with San Francisco) . . . Willie became the regular fifth place hitter and added consistency to the attack . . . he sprays the ball to all fields and has power also . . . over the years he has conceded some power to become a better and more intelligent hitter . . . in his first year with the Phils he hit 30 homers, a Philadelphia rookie record, but his batting average was just .255, a figure he has surpassed easily the last three seasons . . . has a style all his own, snapping at the ball when he catches it and hitting off his front foot most of the time . . . should be at his prime in the next few years . . . in 1974 he led the Phils with a .304 average, 33 doubles and 13 game-winning hits . . . last season he led the Giants with 12 go-ahead RBIs and was second to Murcer with 11 game-winning hits . . . is a brilliant fielder with credentials good enough to be considered for the Gold Glove award . . . signed with St. Louis in 1965, drafted by the California Angels in November of that year, but was returned to the Cardinals the following May . . . traded to Philadelphia on April 9, 1970, as part compensation for Curt Flood's failure to report to the Phils . . . finished second to Atlanta's Earl Williams in N.L. Rookie of the Year voting in 1971 . . . runner-up in 1973 and 1974 Gold Glove race . . . has averaged 82 RBIs a season in the last four years . . . hits lefthanders as well as righthanders . . . enjoyed one of his most memorable and productive days in Candlestick Park on July 13, 1974, when he went 4-for-4 in a game against the Giants and learned of the birth of his first son to wife Marta during the game . . . achieved a personal goal by driving in more than 100 runs last season.

BOBBY RAY MURCER

OUTFIELDER. Bats L, Throws R. Born May 20, 1946, in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Height 5-11, Weight 180. Married, two children. Lives in Oklahoma City.

Bobby's acquisition from the New York Yankees on October 22, 1974, in a trade for Bobby Bonds signaled the start of a new offensive philosophy for the Giants . . . it was a season in which the team strikeout total decreased by nearly 100, and although the home run total was down slightly (from 93 to 84), run production increased along with the team batting average and the total number of wins . . . along with other newcomers Willie Montanez, Derrel Thomas and Von Joshua, all of whom posted lower strikeout and higher batting averages than their predecessors, Murcer helped construct a consistent attack . . . Bobby led all Giants in game-winning RBIs with 13 and was second to Montanez with 11 go-ahead RBI's . . . he also had 91 RBIs, most by any Giant in 1975 (Montanez had 101, but only 85 for the Giants) . . . again he was among league leaders with 12 sacrifice flies . . . he had a better season than in 1974, increasing his production in homers and RBIs while improving his average 24 points, just missing the .300 mark . . . with runners on base he was very effective, driving in 27 of 39 runners from third base with less than two outs . . . in the past two seasons he has scored 62 of 81 teammates from third with less than two outs, a fantastic 77% . . . he recorded hitting streaks of 13 games and 11 games . . . on May 24th, in a game at Candlestick Park against Chicago, Bobby went two-for-three, a triple and home run and six RBIs, which tied the top single game RBI mark in the league for the year . . . that week he was named N.L. Player of the Week, an award he won again two weeks later, and only Cy Young Award winner Tom Seaver of the New York Mets won that same honor twice in 1975 . . . from August 3rd to the 13th, Murcer drew at least one walk in 11 straight games, which was one game away from the modern National League record held by Cincinnati's Joe Morgan . . . Murcer hit especially well against Pittsburgh (.469, 15-for-32) and Los Angeles (.383, 23-for-60) . . . he broke into the Giant lineup with two big games, doubling and scoring the winning run on Opening Night at San Diego in a 2-0, 10-inning win, then coming back to dazzle fans at the home opener against Atlanta, on April 11th . . . Bobby made a fantastic catch off Mike Lum in the first inning, crashing into the right-centerfield fence, then doubled in a run in his first at bat and tripled later in that game . . . in a predominantly lefthanded lineup, Bobby was forced to swing against southpaws more than usual . . . still he maintained his effectiveness and actually hit better against lefties . . . two of his best months were June and July, the time period when cleanup hitter Gary Matthews, the only power hitter from the right side, was out with a broken thumb . . . three of Murcer's homers were off lefthanders, and he has a lifetime total of 52 HR off portsiders . . . had only one homer after the All Star game, in which he was the Giants' lone participant . . . in the last three seasons Bobby has hit only one homer in the month of August . . . Murcer was signed by Yankee scout Tom Greenwade in June of 1964 . . . originally a shortstop, Bobby played some third base before being shifted to center field as the successor to Mickey Mantle in Yankee Stadium . . . he was switched to right field by Manager Bill Virdon in mid-1974, prior to coming to the Giants . . . has twice hit three homers in a game, and on June 24, 1970, he hit four homers in consecutive at bats in a doubleheader, three in the first game and one in the nightcap . . . he led the American League with 102 runs scored and won the Gold Glove in 1972 . . . an All Star performer the past five seasons . . . a hardnosed competitor who is serious about the game and provides solid leadership for younger players.

CHARLES ANTHONY PEPPER

INFIELDER. Bats L, Throws L. Born December 24, 1952, in Washington, D. C. Height 6-3, Weight 205. Single. Lives in Sacramento, California.

A big strong lefthanded-hitting first baseman in the Willie McCovey mold, Tony has shown some power in his five pro seasons, but not yet the awesome kind possessed by Big Mac . . . the jump to AAA ball at Phoenix saw a drop in run production, but the big guy improved his fielding a lot, enough to lead Pacific Coast League first basemen in putouts, assists and double plays . . . a graduate of Sacramento's Grant Union High School where he came to the attention of scout Eddie Montague . . . the Giants chose him in the second round of the June, 1971, draft . . . Tony was All-Sacramento in baseball and football and he starred at Grant High in basketball as well . . . played in the 1971 P.A.L. California North-South All Star game at Anaheim Stadium.

DAVID MARTIN RADER

CATCHER. Bats L, Throws R. Born December 26, 1948, in Claremore, Oklahoma. Height 5-11, Weight 165. Married, two children. Lives in Bakersfield, California.

Dave played a bit less than in 1974, but was still the Giants' regular catcher . . . batted .291 for the second straight year and improved his run production somewhat . . . came through with five game-winning hits and three go-ahead RBIs . . . hit considerably better on the road, collecting four of his home runs and 20 RBIs away from Candlestick . . . eight of his 21 career homers have been hit in enemy parks . . . a line drive hitter who makes consistent contact, Dave has fanned only 124 times in over 1500 major league at bats . . . during 1975 Dave put together the longest hitting streak of his career, 12 straight games from August 3rd to 22nd . . . he continued and hit safely in 19 of 20 games through September 4th . . . more run production is his goal . . . Dave was signed by scout Dick Wilson out of South Bakersfield High School as the Giants' number one choice in the June, 1967, draft . . . he was a baseball and football (linebacker-quarterback) standout as a prepster . . . hit .314 at Phoenix in 1971 and was named to the Pacific Coast League All Star's second team, earning a late season promotion to San Francisco . . . became the Giants' number one catcher in 1972 and was named the Sporting News' National League Rookie of the Year . . . on April 18, 1973, Dave made an extremely rare unassisted double play against Atlanta . . . with runners on first and second in the 11th inning Braves' Pitcher Tom House bunted in the air in front of the plate . . . Rader caught the pop up and ran all the way to second base to double the runner who had broken towards third base.

QUALIFICATIONS and REGULATIONS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A BATTING CHAMPION: highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A PITCHING CHAMPION: lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

PLAYER LIMITS: 40 until Opening Day when the roster must be reduced to 25 players until September 1, when it again becomes 40.

DETERMINING BATTING AVERAGE: divide the number of at bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING EARNED RUN AVERAGE: multiply the number of earned runs by nine; take that number and divide it by the number of innings pitched.

DETERMINING MAGIC NUMBER: determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

KENNETH JOHN REITZ

INFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born June 24, 1951, in San Francisco, Ca. Height 6-0, Weight 175. Married. Lives in St. Louis, Mo.

Acquired on December 8, 1975, in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals for lefthanded pitcher Pete Falcone . . . expected to be the Giants' regular at third base, a position without a regular at Candlestick Park since Jimmy Davenport retired in 1970 . . . Ken has been a regular the past three seasons for the Cardinals, and last season he was awarded the Golden Glove at third base as the best fielder at his position . . . he led National League third sackers in fielding average in 1973 and 1974 . . . last year he missed only one game and hit .269 with five home runs and 63 RBIs, far better run production than the Giants received at that position . . . with Reitz at third base the Giants feel they have the best defensive infield in the league including Chris Speier at shortstop, Derrel Thomas at second base and Willie Montanez . . . Ken has been nicknamed the "Zamboni Machine" for his ability to scoop balls off the artificial turf at Busch Stadium, and Candlestick Park's astroturf plays about the same . . . the past two years he has gotten off to hot starts with the bat, but his tendency has been to cool off when hot weather started . . . he's been among the league batting leaders through the first month of the season, then tailed off . . . an all around athlete and graduate of Jefferson High School in nearby Daly City, Ken starred in baseball, basketball, football and wrestling . . . was a Giant fan as a youngster and chased many of Willie McCovey's long home runs in the right field bleachers . . . wore uniform number 44, McCovey's famous digits, as a Cardinal . . . Ken hit his first major league home run in Candlestick off Ron Bryant on May 9, 1973 . . . has consistently hit well against the World Champion Reds . . . should be coming into his prime years at the age of 24 . . . Ken and wife Kathy expect their first child this spring.

FRANK JOSEPH RICELLI

PITCHER. Bats L, Throws L. Born February 24, 1953, in Syracuse, New York. Height 6-2, Weight 185. Single. Lives in Syracuse, N. Y.

Coming off surgery on his left shoulder, Frank had a good season with Lafayette of the AA Texas League . . . although not throwing as hard as he once did, Riccelli showed good control and completed 10 of 26 starts, both career highs . . . finished seventh in the league ERA, third in strikeouts and second in complete games . . . pitched more innings than anyone in the Texas League . . . interestingly, he did not issue an intentional walk all season . . . had two previous seasons in AAA at Phoenix, but was not successful and encountered shoulder problems . . . will probably go to AAA and try to prove he can win there, but with a dearth of lefthanders on the San Francisco roster he could have a shot at a varsity job this spring . . . Frank was the Giants' first choice in the June, 1971, draft and was signed by scout Buddy Kerr out of Christian Brothers Academy in Syracuse, N.Y., where he starred in baseball and basketball . . . was the Pioneer Rookie League's runner-up in strikeouts in 1971 and led the Texas League in whiffs the next season . . . perhaps a compromise between his old blazer and improved control of 1975 will lead him to a major league job . . . just 23 years old.

MICHAEL GEORGE SADEK

CATCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born May 30, 1946, in Richfield, Minnesota. Height 5-9, Weight 165. Married, two children. Lives in Foster City, California.

Mike returned to San Francisco via purchase from Phoenix in June after spending all of 1974 with that AAA club . . . he got some playing time backing up Dave Rader, more time than he had in the entire 1973 season which he spent with the Giants . . . always a fine defensive catcher, Mike showed some improvement with the bat last year . . . produced three game-winning hits for San Francisco . . . he'll contend for a backup job again this spring, with competition coming from Marc Hill and Gary Alexander . . . a veteran of nine pro campaigns, Mike was signed out of the University of Minnesota by the Twins' organization . . . came to the Giants in the minor league draft following the 1969 season . . . at Minnesota he was the All-Big Ten catcher in 1967.

CHRIS EDWARD SPEIER

INFIELDER. Bats R, Throws R. Born June 28, 1950 in Alameda, California. Height 6-1, Weight 185. Married, one son, one daughter. Lives in Alamo, California.

Chris enjoyed the best half season of his major league career up until the All Star Game break in 1975 . . . he was undoubtedly the best shortstop in the game at that point, combining near flawless defense with a hot bat that was producing runs at a clip that would make him San Francisco's all-time top RBI man for a season at his position . . . Daryl Spencer, with 74 in 1958, holds the mark that Chris approached the last three years . . . Speier put together hitting streaks of 8, 9, 10 and 11 games early in the year and from July 9th to the 28th he hit safely in 17 of 18 games . . . it was a gross injustice that Speier was left off the National League's All Star Team since he led N.L. shortstops with 43 RBIs and had committed just four errors at the time . . . for the season only one shortstop, Toby Harrah of Texas with 93, topped Speier's RBI total . . . from late July on Chris fell down in run production at his usual fifth or sixth slot in the batting order . . . had only nine RBIs in the last two months of the campaign, just two in September . . . in spite of that he ended up the year third on the club in both game-winning hits (10) and go-ahead RBIs (11) behind Willie Montanez and Bobby Murcer . . . one of his game-winners was a ninth-inning homer that beat Houston and J.R. Richard, 3-2, at Candlestick Park on August 1st . . . Montanez had led off the bottom of the ninth with a home run to tie the game and Speier promptly belted one over the left field fence for the win . . . Speier has had 44 game-winning hits in his five seasons . . . in the field Chris had his best season . . . over the past three years he has cut down his errors from 33 to 21 to just 12 in 1975, the fewest by any regular shortstop in the majors . . . he had the best fielding average among shortstops in both leagues, .982 in 679 total chances, yet he did not receive the Gold Glove Award . . . a fierce competitor who won't be 26 years old until June 28th, Chris has been a regular for five seasons . . . he was instrumental in helping the Giants win the Western Division title in his rookie year of 1971 . . . Chris had played just one minor league season after being drafted first by San Francisco in the Special Phase of the January, 1970, draft while attending the University of California at Santa Barbara . . . scout Herman Hannah brought Speier to the Giants' attention after watching him play semi-pro ball in Stratford, Ontario, in Canada . . . Chris was the Texas League's All Star shortstop in 1970 and the following spring was invited to San Francisco's major league camp as a non-roster player . . . was voted by the players as the National League's All Star shortstop in the Sporting News' poll in 1972 . . . in 1973 he was voted by the fans to the National League's starting team for the All Star Game and he made the Associated Press Major League All Star Team at the end of the season.

DERREL OSBON THOMAS

INFIELDER. Bats R & L, Throws R. Born January 14, 1951, in Los Angeles, California. Height 6-0, Weight 160. Single. Lives in Los Angeles.

Derrell's first season with San Francisco produced the best campaign of his four in the National League . . . as the regular second baseman and second place hitter he recorded personal highs in games, at bats, runs, hits, triples, home runs, RBIs and stolen bases . . . his 99 runs led the club and were among the most by anyone in the league . . . also led Giants with 28 steals in 41 attempts . . . Derrel stole home four times in five tries, swiped second 23 of 29 times and made it to third once in two attempts . . . combined with Chris Speier at shortstop to lift the Giant team total in double plays to 164, third best in the league, a boost from 153 and seventh best in the NL in 1974 . . . contributed five game-winning hits and seven go-ahead RBIs . . . acquired on December 6, 1974, from San Diego for infielder Tito Fuentes . . . originally in the Houston organization and saw his first major league action with the Astros in 1971 before going to the Padres on December 3 of that year along with pitchers Bill Greif and Mark Schaeffer for lefthander Dave Roberts . . . he's another of the Giants' young veterans who, at 25, should be coming into his prime years as an athlete . . . signed out of Dorsey High School in Los Angeles as Houston's first pick in the January, 1969, draft . . . has improved noticeably in each of the last three seasons to the point where he is an established major league regular . . . combines with Montanez, Speier and Reitz to give the Giants as good a defensive infield as there is in baseball . . . hit his first home run from the right side of the plate on September 12th off Cincinnati southpaw Fred Norman . . . his 13 other major league homers have all been hit as a lefthanded batter . . . hit better against righthanded pitchers last year, but in 1974 he hit lefthanders better . . . Thomas and Ontiveros are the only switch-hitters on the roster outside of pitchers Gary Lavelle and Greg Minton.

GARY LEAH THOMASSON

OUTFIELDER. Bats L, Throws L. Born July 29, 1951, in San Diego, California. Height 6-1, Weight 180. Single. Lives in Oceanside, California.

After three years in a Giant uniform Gary is still looking for a regular job . . . has the speed and strong arm for a good outfielder and seems to have good actions at the plate . . . played some at first base, although that position was claimed by Willie Montanez following his May 4th trade to San Francisco . . . Gary's best playing streak was from early June to mid-July while Gary Matthews was out with a broken thumb . . . contributed five game-winning hits and an equal number of go-ahead RBIs . . . his seven homers, one a pinch hit effort off Houston's Larry Dierker, were a career high, surpassing his major league total by one . . . Gary hit .316 against Cincinnati . . . stole nine times in 12 attempts and his career total is 18 thefts in 22 attempts . . . a newly installed member of the Oceanside High School Hall of Fame . . . drafted on the eighth round in June of 1969 and signed by scout George Genovese . . . an all-San Diego C.I.F. selection as a senior . . . picked to the 1973 Topps Major League Rookie All Star Team as the first baseman.

THOMAS HOWARD TOMS

PITCHER. Bats R, Throws R. Born October 15, 1951, in Charlottesville, Va. Height 6-4, Weight 195. Married. Lives in Greenwood, Va.

A consistently strong pitcher throughout his three pro seasons, Tommy was purchased from Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League on May 2, but stayed only a short time . . . incurring a leg injury shortly after he arrived, Toms was ineffective and was optioned out to Phoenix six weeks later . . . Tommy was the PCL leader in Saves when he was brought up, still finished with 11, just two short of the league leader . . . always a fine control pitcher, he still needs to improve the location of his pitches . . . has a good sinker and can throw often, a prime requisite for a reliever . . . has only started twice in his pro career . . . a strong candidate for a varsity job this year . . . Tommy was San Francisco's sixth selection in the June, 1973, draft . . . a graduate of East Carolina University in Greenville, N.C., where he was a Southern Conference All Star.
